

An Account of Mankind From God

What I Have Done, What I Should Have Done, What I Will Do

Home Main Page Preface An Understanding Chapter One Story of Life Chapter Two God and His Power Chapter Three Universal Energies
Chapter Four Universal God Chapter Five More About Mankind Chapter Six Future of the Planet Chapter Seven Honoring God Chapter Eight
Sick, Poor, and Ourselves Chapter Nine Maninds Way to Heaven Chapter Ten God, Faith, and Religion Contact contact us

Chapter Six

We are going to talk a little about the future of the planet, in the days ahead mankind will fight in wars, there will be destruction, there will be famine, there will be global warming, but mankind must understand that these are not of Gods doings, but of mankind's. Mankind has begun to do things which are contrary to what God wants mankind to do, these things include but are not limited to your dependency on wealth, your need to have money, yours, and others, there are other things such as gas, oil, stocks and bonds, things which have no value in heaven, but only here on earth. Mankind must understand that wealth is a superficial need, it is not a need that God gave you, God gave you the need for love, the need for food, the need for air, but not for wealth. In history man was happy with food on the tables, clothes on his back, and family to love, today man is driven to have more, more of everything, more clothes, more music, more money, more home. Mankind must look around, and see those who have nothing, judge not those who have nothing, but judge yourself for having so much. Share what you have with others, there is no reward for having the most in heaven, only helping those who have nothing. Mankind will come to the realization that those who have nothing are living within their means, this may sound hard at present, but you will realize that mankind will have to live with afar less, for what mankind has brought upon Gods planet. Food, clothing, gas, oil will be things of the past, man will live with little, just as God wanted mankind to live. God never intended that mankind would divide by class, or color, but by culture, that is why God placed each of you in a different part of the world. You were meant to talk with one another, share ideas with one another, and yes love one another, but you were never meant to live with one another. By living with one another you have exposed yourselves to many new diseases, new cultural problems, this does not mean that your not to love one another, just not live with one another. Mankind will see in the future that cultures were meant to be separate, not for the reason mankind thinks about, but through procreation man has altered what God has created. Mankind human amino acids have been altered this will cause new diseases that mankind will not be able to fight. We are telling this to mankind because it is needed, perhaps if your medical experts understand this they will be able to fight these new diseases quicker.

Lets talk a little about mankind, and their responsibilities to God. God placed mankind on this planet, their creation by God was not by accident it was done on purpose, God did not simple chose to place mankind on this planet out of necessity, but out of his love, God say there was a need for a human being, when we speak of mankind what we are saying is that mankind is human being, that there are other beings on other planets, this is something that mankind will have to accept for it is truth Human beings have been evolving since the first Adam, and Eve, Adam and Eve were names given to the first human being, God did not call them Adam, and Eve, for the simple reason there was no reason to call them anything they are his beings, people feel that all mankind came from only two, this is simply not so, mankind came from many human beings, created throughout the planet, each having it's own microbiology system, each was different not in every way, but small ways, mankind has to know this, or you would all look alike, but this is not so, when mankind realized that there is more then simply looking different, there are biological things that are different, perhaps after mankind maps the DNA they will see the differences, but mankind is evolving very slowly, if you wish to speed this process up, you will have to accept things that have never been conceived before. Taking the same piece of paper, and braking it down to the smallest microbe, you will see that no two pieces of paper are the same, just as mankind, there is not two exactly alike, all particles are different. At this present time you are looking at human beings in the mirror, now imagine looking at human beings in a super microscope, your going to see things that you never saw before, with time this will happen, man will learn that there is so much more to man, then simply DNA, but even atoms are different, as we have spoken before, you must break mankind down to positive, and negative, these are the building blocks of the universe.