

Chapter Thirteen

God is sending mankind a message that the end is near, people seem to question what does that mean, well lets start by talking a little about the end, for some feel that with the end all is final that there is nothing else, only the end. You must understand what god is saying, he is saying that the end of life as you might know it, this should not be confused with the end of your life, it only means that your life in the here and now will be over, that you will continue to live and prosper, but in a different form. Ok lets talk about the different form, this form will be called the soul, the soul is a lot of things, it is used to communicate through, you can speak with others, other animals, other beings, you can speak to the holly ghost through your soul, some have used the soul to heal others, while some have used the soul to attempt to control others, the soul is a very powerful part of your being. Mankind needs to understand the power that comes with the soul, but equally mankind must understand what the soul is, where is the soul, for many they feel that it is located at the top of your head, others feel that it is between your eyes, but god is telling you that it is in your heart, that you should listen to your heart, this is you soul. Mankind will see a need to understand where there soul is in the future, for in the future mankind will be asked to make a choice, to go with god, and Jesus Christ into heaven or remain on this dead planet, at this time mankind will be asked to make a conscious choice, they will have to answer what is being asked by their soul, at this time all will have to know where it is and to listen to what it is saying. God will not make this a test, you will not be asked to answer questions about yourself, you will not be asked to judge yourself, you will simply be asked do you wish to go with God, and Jesus Christ into heaven or remain on this planet. Faiths have always used threats, fears, to scare people into following them, what God is saying is there is no fear, no threats, only his love. God does not judge you, he will not make you conform to his way of being, for that would be impossible, what God is asking of his people is to learn to love yourselves, accept yourselves, as what you are Gods creation. God made no mistakes, no mater how hard others will tell you that you're a mistake, you must listen only to what your God is telling you, that your not a mistake, that he has never made a mistake.

I think at this time it is important to talk about faiths, for so much of mankind is devoted to it, but follows the wrong ones, for the only one anyone should follow is God, God the creator of the universe, founder and creator of mankind, and all beings and all planets in the universe, this is not a hard issue, only faiths have made it so. Faiths have never understood that those they chose to follow, were merely messengers of God, that God is the only one you should follow, no others, messengers have been sent since the creation of time to speak with mankind to advise mankind, but for some reason, mankind fails to follow what the messengers have told you, instead followed the messenger. All faiths have done this, there is nothing wrong with following a faith, believing in something no mater what it is, the fault is that there is only one that you should be following and that is God. All others were merle messengers of God sent to you to show you that there is a God, that he is the creator of the universe, that you must obey him, and only him. Each faith has followed in their own views of what God is, mankind must understand that there is only one God, his name is God, he is the creator of the universe and all that is in it. Mankind must ask of their faiths not the question of was the profit, or messenger the son of God, but were they messengers of God. There is only one God, he expects you to honor him, to show him your love, to accept him as you one and only God, creator of the universe. Mankind continues to fight for which faith is the one faith, for which faith is better then the other faith, but you must understand there is no faith without God, there is no one, no being, no faith above God. Think about what I am telling you, look at all faiths, how many people have been sacrificed for their faith, when there was no need for one to be sacrificed for his faith, for with God there is no need to organize into any one faith for there is only one God. God is not asking mankind to turn from their faith, but what God is asking mankind to do, is ask his faith to worship only one God, that messengers were messengers, but what God is asking is to be observed. This is not to say that the messengers were not special in Gods eyes, but what it is saying is that God is the only one, for without God there would have been no messengers, in fact there would be nothing, for God is God. God is asking his followers, he is asking you to believe in him, to follow him, to accept him, and to include him into your life, to put no others above him, to ask only of him. God has told mankind that there is to be no false prophets, God has told mankind that no one should be above him, when will mankind listen to what their God is telling them to do.

We continue to talk about faith, but it is important that mankind understand the differences between faiths, that some faiths have a legitimate claim to heaven, while others who claim to represent God, do not do so. This is hard one for all involved to understand that God has never given his name to any one for the sole use of profiteering, just as God never made any promises to mankind, for it is not Gods responsibility to give promises, it Gods responsibility that mankind keeps his promises, promises which have been made throughout the ages. It is important for all religions to come together to accept one for what they are brothers in the faith of God, that God is asking them, and yes telling them to come together for the sake of mankind, stop fighting each other, accept your brother, show your brother your compassion for one another, show Gods children the light, that is God. You can continue to fight among yourselves, till the end of time, this will not prevent what will be, or you can come together, do what your God is telling you to do accept one another, show Gods children the way. For death and destruction have beget what your faiths have been created to stop. Look to one another this is your brother, there is no need to hate one another, love one another for you all come from the same place, and will return to the same place. We have spoken a great deal about faiths but the truth is this is a large part of where the hate, and destruction comes from on earth. People feel this need to belong, belong to this, belong to that, this is were faiths began. Telling people that this is what you must follow, you must obey, you must succeed to, the fact of the mater is that God is the only faith that any one should have, that with God there is no need for faith, for religions, for believers, for God is within each of you, he is there now, he is there always, listening, watching, holding you when you fall, picking you up when you have fallen. None of you should ever feel alone, for with God he is with you, all you have to do is talk with him, include him in your life, invite him into your life. God loves you,

God created you, God will be there when it is your time to cross over, God will always love you, even when others have turned their backs to you, God will be there.

I think that we should spend some time explaining this idea of no faith, God is not asking you to give up, leave your faith, for with you faith it shows that you believe in God, all God is asking is that mankind remembers that God is number one in your life, that all other things, people, come second. God will never ask you to make a sacrifice for him, for with God there is no need to make sacrifices, God will only ask you to do things that will help you, make you better people, things that God is asking of mankind at this time, is not to show that your willing to make sacrifices, but to help mankind from the brink of destruction that your following to. God is asking you to stop killing one another, this is not a sacrifice for what happens when mankind stops killing is that mankind will live longer. God is asking you to stop hating one another, this is not a sacrifice for what happens when you stop hating one another, is that there will be no more wars. God is asking that you love yourself, this is not a sacrifice for what happens when you stop hating yourself, you start loving yourself, and will find no need to hate others. Everything that God is asking you to do, has a deliberate reason for asking so, killing, destruction, hate, violence are all negative, and as we have discussed, negative is negative, too much can swing the pendulum in the wrong direction, or were it is today, mankind is leading to destruction with all the negative in and around your planet, were on the other hand love, joy, peace, acceptance, are all positive, positive is needed, at different times in human existence, this is one of those time when there is the need for much positive, this is the only answer for the negative in and around your planet. Do positive things in your life, no matter how little, or how small those acts are they will help improve the quality of life on your planet.
